

'NICE GUYS' BUSTED

These alleged johns are pretty run-of-the-mill

The Star Tribune's article on the "Minnesota Nice Guys" ("Minneapolis cops bust 'nice guys' sex ring, June 7) implies that this sex ring is different from others because the men are successful businessmen, lawyers and accountants.

But here's the real news story: Most of the johns out prowling the urban streets looking for prostitutes, going on sex tours to Asian countries or taking part in sex acts at bachelor parties are middle- to upper-class men. It is precisely the "nice guys" who create the demand side of the sex industry.
